

ALL TRAINS HALT TO HONOR FINLEY

Not a Wheel Turns on Southern Railway System for Five Minutes.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL

Fifty-three Carriages Are Required to Convey Family and Friends to Oak Hill Cemetery.

Not a wheel turned, not a telegraph instrument clicked, on the entire Southern Railway system for five minutes yesterday while funeral services were being held for William Wilson Finley, president of the Southern. The services were conducted at St. John's Episcopal Church by the rector, Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, beginning at 11 o'clock.

Presidents and other high officials of many railroads of the country gathered at the church out of respect to Mr. Finley. Private services, attended only by members of the family and close friends, were held at the Finley home, 2221 R street northwest, at 11:15 o'clock. The honorary pallbearers also attended this service. They were Col. A. B. Andrews, first vice president and a director of the Southern; George P. Baker, a voting trustee; James J. Hill, former president and chairman of the board of the Great Northern; Charles E. Smith, former president of the United States Steel Corporation; Fairfax Harrison, Adrian Iselin, and George E. Baker, Jr., directors of the Southern; Francis Lynde Steierson, general counsel at New York; Judge Alexander P. Humphrey, general counsel at Louisville; Alfred P. Thom, general counsel at Washington; J. M. Culp, T. C. Powell, Henry B. Spencer, E. H. Chapman, and R. D. Langford, vice presidents of the Southern; R. V. Taylor, vice president and general manager of the Mobile and Ohio; John B. Munson, vice president and general manager of the Georgia Southern and Florida; H. C. Ansley, treasurer of the Southern; A. H. Plant, comptroller of the Southern, and A. C. Downing and Leonard M. Laverling, friends of Mr. Finley.

No Sermon Delivered. Immediately after the private services the family drove to St. John's Church, where the public services were held. There was no sermon, the simple service of the Episcopal Church being conducted by the Rev. Dr. Smith, assisted by Rev. Dr. Williamson Smith and Rev. Edward S. Dunlap.

Fifty-three carriages were required to convey the family and friends of Mr. Finley to Oak Hill Cemetery, where interment was made. The floral tributes were numerous and handsome. The five pallbearers were six colored porters of the Southern Railway, who had served Mr. Finley in various capacities during his lifetime.

The carriages of the pallbearers headed the procession, and the hearse came the members of the Finley family—Mrs. Finley, W. Finley, Jr., Misses Lottie, Leonora, Celestine, Lillie, Jeanie, and Isabel Finley, and Mrs. Finley, Jr. In the carriages following were Mrs. Marion Davis, Mrs. A. V. Davis, W. W. Matthews, and Mrs. Matthews, Miss Riggs, Mrs. Downing, Miss Downing, Miss Reed, Mrs. Rosalie Matthews, Mrs. Matthews, Mr. Hickey, Mr. Bell, Davis, Fago, Miss Bowie, Mrs. Large, Mr. Robinson, Mrs. Samuel Spencer, Mrs. Henry Spencer, and Mrs. Samuel Hill.

Others who attended were: Daniel Willard, William H. White, W. H. Day, R. Davies Wardell, Mark W. Potter, W. H. Harahan, E. T. Lamb, Key Compton, Robert Jenkinson, Jr., E. P. McBurney, Capt. C. A. Dickson, John W. Gerber, W. K. Melton, R. D. Quickel, and T. R. Griffin.

Officials, representatives, and employees of the passenger traffic department came to the city to attend the funeral from practically all of the offices of the company throughout the country.

Among the flowers sent for the funeral was a solid blanket of orchids, given by employees of the Southern Railway. It was designated specially by William F. Oude.

Motion Picture News A Daily Feature In The Herald

This daily news feature of The Washington Herald is for the benefit of everybody interested in motion pictures.

Suggestions, comments, criticisms, inquiries, and questions invited. Address communications to Motion Picture Editor, Washington Herald.

Helen Gardner will be seen in a role new to her admirers when the film, at present being produced at the Helen Gardner Studio, is released. The new photo-play is entitled "Olga Treskoff," and the scenes are laid in Russia.

Olga Treskoff, played by Miss Gardner, is the center of a political conspiracy. Through the various intrigues she is induced to leave her husband, a baron, and follow her lover, who has been exiled to Siberia. Here both husband and lover meet and in a dramatic struggle both are killed, leaving Olga desolate and alone.

The scenes descriptive of Russian life, and the tortures suffered by the prisoners are portrayed with a strong vividness and force.

For beautiful scenes, through which a wholesome, pretty love story runs like a thread of rose-colored ribbon, the new Princess play, "Her Right to Happiness," is one of the most attractive this month.

The story is simple. By itself, there would hardly seem to be enough to make a full reel. But as the love story develops, one scene leads to another in rapid succession and one's interest is held without a break.

Manfield is a young business man who is "all business" in his office, and the primitive out-of-door athlete after business hours are over. His youngest and prettiest stenographer is an "out-door" girl, herself—but attends strictly to business in the office. Attracted merely by what they know of each other during business hours, they fall in love and are married. Then—each tries to live up to a business conception of the other—which becomes a good deal of a strain.

To relieve this, for a while, Manfield goes off on a hunting trip. And, finding there is another unknown side to his character which she has never suspected, his wife presently follows him into the woods. She comes upon his camp when he least expects her, and proves herself such a thoroughly good out-of-door comrade that they live through a second honeymoon, alone with each other in the woods. The cast includes: Brandt Manfield, Boyd Marshall; Fana, one of his stenographers, Fanna Gregory; Manfield's wife, young and pretty, Muriel Ostriche.

Louise Huff is the latest acquisition to the Lubin company's galaxy of stars. Miss Huff before joining the Lubin forces played leads for the Edison and Famous Players' companies.

The extent of the popularity of that irrepressible pair of funmakers, John E. Brennan and Ruth Roland, can be judged from the contents of a letter bearing the postmark of Geneva, Switzerland, received at the Kalem offices recently. The writer declares that the announcement to the effect that a picture featuring Mr. Brennan and Miss Roland is to be shown at one of the theaters, is the signal for an unusually large attendance. These performers will shortly be seen in a rollicking new farce, "General Bunke's Victory."

WORDS WIN HIM FREEDOM.

Prisoner Broke Silence of Twenty Years to Ask Parole.

Leavenworth, Kans., Nov. 28.—Jaeger W. Rainey, State prison life-terminer, who broke a silence of twenty years recently, when he begged for release on parole, is out of prison today. He will be free as long as he observes the parole regulations.

Rainey had served twenty years on the charge of murdering a woman. The prisoner protested when he arrived here that he had been wronged and took a vow that his voice would not be heard while he remained behind the prison walls.

Militant Fire Plot Fails.

Newport, Eng., Nov. 28.—Militant suffragists today tried to burn the new Caerleon Training College, which cost £200,000, but the blaze was extinguished by the wind. Woodwork had been saturated with oil and the fire lit with fuses.

"SPUG" MOVEMENT BRANCH PLANNED HERE

Society for Prevention of Useless Giving to Be Formed at Meeting Wednesday Morning.

NEW YORK WOMEN TO SPEAK

A branch of the Society for the Prevention of Useless Giving, known as the "Spug" movement, will be formed here at a meeting at 11 o'clock next Wednesday morning at Raucher's, under the auspices of the Washington branch of the National Civic Federation. Mrs. August Belmont, who originated the idea and launched it in New York; Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, and Miss Gertrude Robinson-Smith, all of New York, will be speakers at the meeting.

"Spugs" of this city yesterday arranged for the meeting at a conference held at the home of Mrs. H. A. Peckham, 181 K street northwest. Mrs. Peckham, wife of Speaker Clark of the House of Representatives, will make a speech at the meeting. It is expected that Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the President, also is expected to attend the meeting at Raucher's, and may deliver an address.

"Spug" pins, to cost 10 cents or more, will be put on sale Tuesday at the Post-office Department. In speaking of the movement, Mrs. Peckham said: "The movement has gained such favor in New York, and has resulted in the elimination of so much useless giving, that I think Washington can follow the example of the metropolis profitably. We ask the co-operation of the public and trust that all who are interested will attend the rally next Wednesday morning."

Among those present at the conference yesterday were Mrs. Archibald Hopkins, Mrs. William Martin Grinnell, Mrs. William Hitt, Miss Manning Brewer, Mrs. Sydney Ballou, Miss Elizabeth Brown, Mrs. Ellis Stuckney, Mrs. John McLaughlin, and Mrs. Chamberlain.

THAW FILES ANSWER.

Opposes Effort of New York Sheriff to Gain His Custody.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 28.—Merrill Shureliff, attorney for Harry Thaw, today filed Thaw's answer to Sheriff Drew's return writ of habeas corpus granted by Federal Judge Aldrich.

The answer is simply a formal denial of the grounds upon which Drew asks that the petition for a writ of habeas corpus be refused and it alleges that the custody under which Thaw is held is illegal, oppressive and not founded on due process of law.

How To Heal a Stubborn Abscess

A Home Method Sure to Restore Flesh to Natural Health.

Here are some very valuable facts for all who have any blood trouble with external sores.

Do not cover any sore so as to interfere with perspiration and the formation of protective scales. Keep it clean and bandaged. If it is a stubborn case, flush your blood with S. S. S. This famous blood purifier works wonders. And you can easily give your blood a good, thorough cleansing by using S. S. S. There is no need for anyone to be dependent over the illness of blood impurities. No matter how badly they attack the system or how unsightly becomes the skin, just remember there is one ingredient in S. S. S. that stimulates the cellular tissues throughout the body that each selects its own essential nutriment from the blood.

This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked, and repair work begins. S. S. S. has such a specific influence on all local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and afford a proper relative assistance to each other. More attention is being given to scientific medicine than ever before, and S. S. S. is the highest achievement in this line.

Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. If your abscess is of such a nature that you would like to consult a specialist, write to the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 214 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Beware of any attempt to sell you something else for the blood. Many people have been imposed upon by having some mineral mixture palmed off on them. Ask for S. S. S. and insist that S. S. S. is what you propose to get.
